Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Investment Objective and Strategies

Investment Objective: Axiom Balanced Growth Portfolio (the Portfolio) seeks to achieve a balance of income and long-term capital growth by investing in a diversified portfolio of equity, income, and bond mutual funds (its Underlying Funds).

Investment Strategies: The portfolio advisor has established a long-term strategic asset mix weighting for the Portfolio with, under normal market conditions, an asset mix of fixed income (20-50%) and equities (50-80%). The portfolio advisor may review and adjust the asset mix, in its sole discretion, depending on economic conditions and relative value of income and equity securities. The Portfolio will utilize strategic and tactical asset allocation strategies that will:

- invest up to 100% of the Portfolio's assets in units of its Underlying Funds managed by the Manager or one of its affiliates;
- allocate the Portfolio's assets among the Underlying Funds according to the asset mix determined by the portfolio advisor and monitor, review, and periodically rebalance or modify the Portfolio's asset mix, change the percentage holdings of any Underlying Fund, and add or remove any Underlying Fund at the portfolio advisor's sole discretion.

Risk

The Portfolio is a Canadian equity balanced fund that is suitable for investors who can tolerate low to medium investment risk.

For the period ended August 31, 2018, the Portfolio's overall level of risk remained as discussed in the simplified prospectus.

Results of Operations

The Portfolio's portfolio advisor is CIBC Asset Management Inc. (CAMI, the Manager or Portfolio Advisor). The commentary that follows provides a summary of the results of operations for the period ended August 31, 2018. All dollar figures are expressed in thousands, unless otherwise indicated.

The Portfolio's net asset value decreased by 1% during the period, from $292,650 as at August 31, 2017 to $289,377 as at August 31, 2018. Net redemptions of $22,258 were partially offset by positive investment performance, resulting in an overall decrease in net asset value.

Class A units of the Portfolio posted a return of 6.8% for the period. The Portfolio's primary benchmarks are the FTSE Canada Universe Bond Index and the S&P/TSX Composite Index (the primary benchmarks), which returned 1.3% and 10.1%, respectively, for the same period. The Portfolio's blended benchmark (the blended benchmark) returned 8.3% for the same period. The blended benchmark closely reflects the asset classes in which the Portfolio invests, and is designed to provide a more useful comparative to the Portfolio's performance. The Portfolio's return is after the deduction of fees and expenses, unlike the primary and blended benchmarks' returns. See Past Performance for the returns of other classes of units offered by the Portfolio.

The Portfolio has a target asset allocation of 32% Canadian equities, 30% Canadian fixed income securities, 12% U.S. equities, 8% Canadian income-generating investments, 8% international equities, 5% global fixed income securities and 5% emerging markets equities.

The Canadian economy had positive overall returns for the period, but lagged its global peers. Canadian equities also lagged their global peers in local-currency terms. Economic activity accelerated and corporate profits rose sharply. However, investor sentiment shifted at the end of January, when solid U.S. job data resulted in concerns about inflation and higher interest rates.

Canadian equity valuations became more of a challenge, but the underlying operating results of Canadian businesses remained sound. There was increased caution in the Canadian housing market after housing prices in key markets rebounded and the Bank of Canada (the BoC) raised interest rates. U.S. dollar strength resulted in weaker commodity prices, particularly for gold and copper. Oil prices benefited from an improving supply-and-demand balance driven by growing demand and the Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries' production cuts.

In terms of fixed income markets, data released during the period provided further evidence of synchronized global economic expansion. In the U.S., economic data remained positive, supported by the U.S. Federal Reserve Board's (the Fed) cautious approach to tightening monetary policy and increased optimism regarding tax cuts. The Fed increased the federal funds rate three times. The BoC increased its overnight rate by 0.25% in September 2017, January 2018 and again in July 2018.

Canadian federal bonds returned 0.28% for the period, while Canadian provincial bonds outperformed at 2.05%. Canadian corporate bonds returned 1.64%. In the U.S., investment-grade corporate bonds underperformed their Canadian counterparts. U.S. high-yield bonds outperformed, returning 2.70% (hedged to Canadian dollars). Global government bond yields in most markets were pushed higher by continued evidence of solid economic activity, even as investors became increasingly concerned about rising inflationary pressures.

U.S. equities posted strong returns, fuelled by positive economic data. Gross domestic product growth exceeded expectations and consumer confidence and manufacturing activity remained strong. After declining by about 10% in the first quarter, the U.S. equity market recovered quickly, returning almost 20% for the period, despite increased market volatility. The information technology sector recorded significant gains, while the utilities and consumer staples sectors were the weakest-performing sectors.

In terms of Canadian income-generating investments, U.S. protectionist trade policies contributed to concerns about a global trade conflict. The U.S. imposed tariffs on several imports, to which many countries responded with tariffs of their own. Trade tensions between the U.S. and China intensified, while North American Free Trade Agreement renegotiations continued.

Non-U.S. developed markets stocks returned positive performance for the period despite concerns about moderating growth in Europe and Japan, increased global political uncertainty and escalating trade tensions that contributed to volatility. In Europe, geopolitical concerns and weakening economic data early in 2018 weighed on investor confidence. Equities in Japan gained overall.

In global fixed income markets, the U.S. dollar outperformed most currencies, which had an impact on commodity and trade-linked currencies and bonds. Rising U.S. interest rates and a strengthening U.S. dollar fell especially heavily on emerging markets with high debt or current account deficits.

Emerging markets equities were volatile during the period largely as a result of political issues in Brazil and Turkey. Smaller market participants, such as Qatar and Thailand, produced the highest returns for the period. Energy was the top-performing sector as crude oil prices rebounded.

From an underlying fund perspective, Renaissance Global Bond Private Pool was the most significant detractor from the Portfolio's performance relative to the blended benchmark, followed by Renaissance Emerging Markets Equity Private Pool.

Underlying fund Renaissance Canadian Equity Private Pool was the most significant contributor to the Portfolio's performance, followed by Renaissance U.S. Equity Private Pool and Renaissance International Equity Private Pool.

¹ This information is derived from the Portfolio's audited annual financial statements. The Portfolio adopted IFRS on September 1, 2014. Previously, the Portfolio prepared its financial statements in accordance with Canadian Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) as defined in Part V of the CPA Canada Handbook. Under Canadian GAAP, the Portfolio measured fair values of its investments in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3855 which required the use of bid prices for long positions and ask prices for short positions. As such, the net assets per unit figure presented in the financial statements may differ from the net asset value calculated for fund pricing purposes. An explanation of these differences can be found in the notes to the financial statements issued prior to September 1, 2014. Upon adoption of IFRS, the Portfolio measures the fair value of its investments by using the close market prices, where the close market price falls within the bid-ask spread. As such, the Portfolio's accounting policies for measuring the fair value of investments in the financial statements are consistent with those used in measuring the net asset value for transactions with unitholders. Accordingly, the opening net asset figure as at September 1, 2013 was restated to reflect accounting policy adjustments made in accordance with IFRS.

⁶ The decision to waive and/or absorb management fees and operating expenses is at the discretion of the Manager. The practice of waiving and/or absorbing management fees and operating expenses may continue indefinitely or may be terminated at any time without notice to unitholders.

¹ This information is derived from the Portfolio's audited annual financial statements. The Portfolio adopted IFRS on September 1, 2014. Previously, the Portfolio prepared its financial statements in accordance with Canadian Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) as defined in Part V of the CPA Canada Handbook. Under Canadian GAAP, the Portfolio measured fair values of its investments in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3855 which required the use of bid prices for long positions and ask prices for short positions. As such, the net assets per unit figure presented in the financial statements may differ from the net asset value calculated for fund pricing purposes. An explanation of these differences can be found in the notes to the financial statements issued prior to September 1, 2014. Upon adoption of IFRS, the Portfolio measures the fair value of its investments by using the close market prices, where the close market price falls within the bid-ask spread. As such, the Portfolio's accounting policies for measuring the fair value of investments in the financial statements are consistent with those used in measuring the net asset value for transactions with unitholders. Accordingly, the opening net asset figure as at September 1, 2013 was restated to reflect accounting policy adjustments made in accordance with IFRS.

Management Fees

The Portfolio pays CAMI an annual management fee to cover the costs of managing the Portfolio. Management fees are based on the Portfolio's net asset value and are calculated daily and paid monthly. Management fees are paid to CAMI in consideration for providing, or arranging for the provision of, management, distribution, and portfolio advisory services. Advertising and promotional expenses, office overhead expenses related to the Manager's activities, and trailing commissions are paid by CAMI out of the management fees received from the Portfolio. The Portfolio is required to pay applicable taxes on the management fees paid to CAMI. Refer to the simplified prospectus for the annual management fee rate for each class of units. No management fees or incentive fees are payable by the Portfolio that, to a reasonable person, would duplicate a fee payable by an Underlying Fund for the same service.

The following table shows a breakdown of the services received in consideration of the management fees, as a percentage of the management fees collected from the Portfolio for the period ended August 31, 2018. These amounts do not include waived fees or absorbed expenses.

Past Performance

The performance data provided assumes reinvestment of distributions only and does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution, or other optional charges payable by any unitholder that would have reduced returns. Past performance does not necessarily indicate how a fund will perform in the future.

Past performance for Class O units has not been shown because, as at August 31, 2018, there were no units of this class outstanding.

The Portfolio's returns are after the deduction of fees and expenses, and the difference in returns between classes of units is primarily due to differences in the management expense ratio. See Financial Highlights for the management expense ratio.
